THE CURE FOR CORRUPTION.

It is nothing new to remark that water will not run higher than its source. The morality of the M. P. is no higher than that of his constituents; nor conversely, that of his constituents higher than that of the representative. A "boodling" electorate makes a "boodling" representative. The country has for fourteen years at least, been utterly corrupt. The great majority were bought up in 1878 in an open market. Sir John Macdonald offered the people wealth as the purchase money of his rehabilitation and return to power. The N. P. was given as a price and was accepted as value received. The Pacific scandal was condoned, each member of that "buddle brigade," received from the electorate a free pardon and the Pacific Scandal Cabinet were restored to office not one of the crew being left out, this was the deliberate act of the "people" who in broad daylight proclaimed that, so far as the Dominion of Canada was concerned, political morality was of no account, provided political immorality insured a modest degree of increased material prosperity in the country. The Pacific scandal heroes began to reign a second time in 1878, and they reigned continuously for thirteen years. Death and elevations to high places made many inroads upon their numbers, but the remnants of the horde, in March 1891, still cried out aloud, "What shall be done to those whom the people delighteth to honor?" and the response was, "Let them be clothed with the robes of State and seated upon the treasury benches," and it was done. The wicked shall flourish like a green bay tree. It is said that the people have suddenly become virtuous, that Haman is to be succeeded by Mordecai and that the wicked politicians are to perish by way. Fudge! the scandal era at Ottawa has barely uttered the moral pulse of the country. The Globe in to-day's issue refers triumphantly to the action of the clergy, and several "sermons" based on such texts as, "righteousness exalts a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people," are reproduced to indicate that at last the public conscience is aroused and that shortly the text "turn the rascals out" will receive a practical illustration. Again I say "fudge!" A "religious revival is wanted," saith one clergyman. How much of a revival is required to prove that it is wicked to "steal." The public prosecutor is a much more effectual instrument in inculcating honesty than the preacher. But what have the preachers been doing for the past ten weeks? Whence this sudden courage to call a spade a spade? Has the Pacand incident had anything to do with it? Can it be that the ministers are happy because both parties are alike? They can now hit from the shoulder without running upon their "own party." Had Langevin, et al, been alone in the pulpit, would you have been able to say, "The boldness with which they (the clergy) have denounced the evils in high places is one of the most laudable features in what is growing to be our national disgrace?" Not much. Grit and tory fill the pulpit as well as the pews, and thus until corruption had so exhibited itself that the Rev. clergy were able to say (like Dr. Gibralth), "These disclosures have not been confined to any one particular party," the clergy kept a discreet silence. I do not blame them. A clergyman cannot afford to wreck his congregation; and while it remains to be true as it is true to-day that the tory party almost to a man, as indicated by its party organs, groan in the spirit and are troubled, not at corruption in high places, per se but solely because it has been discovered in their own ranks, the clergy were but human in maintaining a discreet silence in the pulpit bounded as it is by Tories on every side.

POLITICAL AND GENERAL.

In the ten years between 1871 and 1881 the population of Middlesex county, Ontario, increased to such an extent that the county became entitled to and obtained an additional representative in the House of Commons. But in the last decade, under Tory rule, the population of Middlesex has actually declined by over 4,000. And Middlesex is one of the finest agricultural counties in Ontario.

The Minister of Justice did not venture to call Sir Hector Langevin to reply to the last sworn statements of Mr. Michael Starrs. Sir John Thompson did not want to make a further exhibition of his colleague's surptitude, and to elicit further proof of the outrageous conspiracy by which the Equumalt dock contract was given to Sir Hector's favorites, and the country swindled out of a vast sum of money. Mr. Starrs' evidence therefore stands uncontradicted, and Mr. Starrs has sworn positively that he was forced by Sir Hector Langevin to withdraw his tender for the dock although it was the lowest, and the result of his withdrawal was that the contract went to Sir Hector's pets; the men who subscribed to his testimonial fund and furnished him with corruption money.

The English papers vigorously condemn the rascality of our Canadian Ministers, M. P.'s and contractors, and the Weekly Despatch does not hesitate to lay almost the whole blame upon the deceased Premier to whose memory those who have profited by his baneful system are even yet talking of raising a monument. The Despatch says: "The secret of Sir John Macdonald's electoral victories is out. On this side of the water surprise has often been expressed at the patience with which our Canadian cousins submitted to the Tory-Protectionist rule of that prince of political intriguers. There is now, alas, no difficulty in explaining that curious situation. Sir John's Government rested on a stupendous and all prevailing system of bribery and corruption. Even Tamany Hall smells sweet and clean in comparison with the huge stinkpot of Sir John's Government. Day by day the revelations that are going on at Ottawa disclose a huge system of corruption that would make old Walpole green with envy. The Public Works Department was tainted and rotten to the core. Every contract was given to political supporters they bargained for enormous prices, and paid back a portion of their ill gotten gains to Ministers and their friends. The confession of Mr. Thomas McGreevy, M. P., a close friend of Sir Hector Langevin, Sir John's designated successor, reads like a romance in the pages of rascality. Some times even the contracts were made to mythical persons, so that no portion of the swag might escape the greedy politicians. Presents of steam yachts, carriages, horses, jewellery and diamonds were constantly made to officials. Altogether such an exposure has seldom been made in the annals of political corruption. Boss Tweed was not in it with Sir John Macdonald and his gang."

Even the Montreal Gazette is compelled to admit that the Robitaille-McGreevy Riopel scandal should be investigated. It points out that the subsidies voted by the federal and provincial parliaments formed the only capital of the Robitaille-McGreevy combination; that these subsidies were not only sufficient to build the road, but enriched the directors, who never invested a cent of their own money, and that "practically the public has been taxed to build a railroad for private persons to own and the private persons have, by the process of building it also put considerable sums of money into their pockets." Quite so. But Mr. Blake exposed the whole business in parliament in 1886, and was denounced as a most unpatriotic man for doing so. The Tory majority voted subsidies into the pockets of the Robitaille-McGreevy clique with their eyes open, and Mr. Thomas McGreevy rewarded their generosity by spending $28,000 of the before mentioned

—One of the great advantages of the vacation season is that people move around and see how other people live. That is a good thing for them to see. Grinding away in one place year after year without any change of surroundings is almost sure to make people narrow and selfish. Travel broadens our view of men and things. Many a good man has been spoiled by remaining at home all his lifetime. After a time he concluded there was no world beyond his own street or his own concession.

—It used to be thought that our good cousins across the line easily excelled in the art of boodling, but the recent revelations at Ottawa prove that they have lost their old ascendancy in this line, and that Canadians now occupy the first place. The English journals continue their criticisms on Canadian corruption which they evidently consider unparalleled in civilized countries.

Talk's cheap, but when it's backed up by sledge of the hard cash of a financially responsible firm, or company, of world-wide reputation for fair and honorable dealing, it means business!
Now, there are scores of sarsaparillas and other blood purifiers, all cracked up to be the best, purest, most peculiar and wonderful, but bear in mind (for your own sake), there's only one guaranteed blood-purifier and remedy for torpid liver and all diseases that come from bad blood.
That one—standing solitary and alone—sold on trial is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.
If it doesn't do good in skin, scalp and scrofulous diseases its makers know and get your money back.
Talk's cheap, but to back a poor medicine or a common one by selling it on trial, as "Golden Medical Discovery" is sold, would bankrupt the largest fortune.

Talk's cheap, but only "Discovery" is guaranteed.

made in its immediate integrity. What a God-send it would be to the true blue Conservatives if a little smirch were detected on the hem of Mr. Mowat's garment! The hang-dog demeanor, naked to the eye, for many weeks previous to the Pacaud discovery, but brightening up ever since, would utterly disappear from the Tory visage if some good genii would only intervene to show in the Mowat regime even the least of the depths of infamy revealed at Ottawa. When the Mercier Government were discovered "boodling," the Tory horde rejoiced in this further proof of national disgrace. Were Mowat found boodling even to the extent of a damask couch or a corkscrew, every Tory home in Canada would be illuminated and every pulp from the Atlantic to the Pacific would resound with thunders compared to which the voice of Peter the hermit was a faint echo.

In my opinion sir, the scandal era at Ottawa will have little practical effect upon "party" (in Ontario at least,) beyond this, that in the future the epistle fund will be contracted in dimensions. Were the Mowat Government detected in the shadow of the least of the thefts disclosed at Ottawa, his Government would not last one session. At Ottawa detected corruption makes no difference. Who can doubt but that had the Nationalist Mercier been a "Bieu," the Senate would have seen at a glance that the Pacaud scandal was a purely local affair, subject to Provincial enquiry alone. But the Pacaud matter, albeit Pacaud and Mercier have not yet put in their defence, is sufficient for such part zan independents as the Toronto Week to scowl aloud for the Lieutenant Governor of Quebec to intervene and assert his authority. The example of Mr. Letellier under somewhat analogous circumstances is quoted, yet strange to say not a hint is given of Mr. Letellier's fate in consequence at the hands of Sir John Macdonald. Down with Mercier cries the Week; "turn the rascal out and try him afterwards!" but to Langevin assign the punishment of crass stupidity, and nothing more! Hypocrites, I say turn every rascal out and begin with the Ottawa boodlers who inaugurated the system. Turn Abbott out equally with Langevin, Abbott was a Pacific scandal hero. Why sits he to day in the Premier's chair? Let us begin at the fountain head. Purge the fountain and the stream will again sparkle in the sunlight. But it is all idle talk. The present Parliament will remain party-branded till it terminates by efflux of time, the whitewash will be applied without stint, and the intellectual weakness more than the moral barrenness of the Tory Government can be looked to for its downfall. We are a corrupt people politically, and individual allegiance to "party" is stronger than individual allegiance to religion or to God. These are strong words, but, alas! they are true. Had a British Cabinet been tainted as ours has been, and yet persisted in holding office the British Isles would have been up in arms, and vast public meetings would have been held throughout the length and breadth of the land to take measures "for turning the rascals out." Here all is quiet on the Rappahannock, and were each remaining minister smirched as Langevin has been before the session ends the Tory majority would remain in the House, 18 to 25, without a grimace on the part of any member of the party.

Down with the N. P. and the moral tone of the country will be restored. Partisanship in the English sense—Tory to-day Liberal to-morrow, as the measure before Parliament may be—is impossible in a protection cursed country. Give the people as much liberty to buy and sell to reap and sow, as they have to worship God, in form and fashion which pleases them, and political corruption will become as rare as it is and has been in England since the repeal of the Corn Laws. While protection endures the reptile fund will live; with free trade, "boodling" in high places will become morally and physically impossible. Down with monopolies, rings, combines and class legislation, and the instant that is done every clergyman in the country will have the same liberty as the platform politician to proclaim the truth boldly, not a pew-holder making him afraid. Till then our "National disgrace" will remain and the people will also remain blind to its existence.—Cor. Globe.

ELECTRICITY IN THE CURE OF DISEASES.—Attention is called to the Dorenwald Electric Belt. It is an invention of Mr. E. H. Dorenwald, of Toronto. It is essentially of a battery in a belt, given a current of electricity, which can be regulated by the wearer, and is applied to the diseased parts by attachments. Competent authorities pronounce it to be far ahead of the orthodox method of applying electricity. It can be used by anyone. Send for the book and price lists to the Dorenwald Electric Belt Co., Toronto see advertisement in another column.

Minard's Liniment cures Colds etc

in 1890. The business of voting millions of dollars into the pockets of railway speculators is merely a part of the Tory party's "patriotic" policy, which we have been so often told is designed "to develop the country's resources." The Gazette says that a number of railways have been built with government subsidies without costing the proprietors a dollar, and that an enquiry into the financial position of all roads receiving government assistance would bring out information that might be the means of saving the country much money. No doubt of it. There is Mr. Chapleau's Pontiac and Pacific road for instance; also the Pope-Ives railways in the Eastern Townships; Mr. Chapleau's Terrebonne road, Mr. Burns' Caraquey railway and others. But the manner in which the subsidies voted to those railway lines were used will shortly be disclosed. Wait till the Quebec legislature asks Mr. Chapleau to explain his Pontiac and Pacific railway deals.

ORANGEVILLE, Aug. 31.—The Rev. Donald C. Hossack, the Presbyterian minister of this town, is nothing if not valiant. It was a brave undertaking in this Conservative stronghold, with one-half of his congregation of that shade of politics, to denounce the corruption that prevails at Ottawa; but he essayed to do it in a sermon last night of no uncertain sound. It was he who, in a communication some time ago to The Globe, forcibly exposed the moral obliquity of vision displayed by Principal Grant, in a celebrated interview at Ottawa, in reference to Sir Charles Tupper, in which the principal advocated the claims of that malodorous politician for the position of leader of the Tory party.

Rev. Mr. Hossack, in the course of his sermon last night, declared that the saddest feature in connection with Canada's shame was the dumbness of the occupants of the prominent pulpits throughout the country on the subject of the political immorality that prevails at Ottawa. He illustrated this by the dulled moral perceptions exhibited by a minister who occupies one of the prominent pulpits in Toronto, in his obituary sermon on Sir John Macdonald, where he apparently cited with approval an anecdote relating to Sir John, in which it is said that he, when a young man in Kingston, asked a friend what he should do to be popular. The friend replied that he should join the Orange Lodge and run for the municipal Council, which advice Sir John acted upon. Mr. Hossack declared that he would have spared Sir John this last tribute if he had undertaken to preach an obituary sermon, and he denounced the lack of principle that was exhibited in joining a lodge and getting into the Council with any such motives. He said that gifts by contractors of $22,000 to a Minister of the Crown, and of a diamond necklace to the wife of a Cabinet Minister, should have the image and superscription of him who would rather reign in hell than rule in Heaven, for he was the true author of such gifts.

No such gifts would be made to the Rev. Dr. Wardrope or to the minister who occupied the Methodist pulpit of this town, although they were men who have done quite as much for the country as any Cabinet Minister, simply because the contributors could gain nothing by making a donation. And the contractors who made it and those who received such gifts must be actuated by corrupt motives, for the latter must know what motives influenced the act. Men cried out about loyalty, and in the next breath bribed the manufacturers into supporting them by extracting money from the pockets of the people for their benefit in the way of duties. He declared that he spoke, not to the office-seekers, but to that large class of voters who had the interests of the country at heart; that he would not use the pulpit to advocate the claims of any particular politician or any particular commercial or political policy; but this was a question which affected the moral well being of the community, which every minister should have at heart. Neither did he spare Mr. Mercier and his Ministers, but did not leave the impression on the minds of his congregation that Mercier's guilt would justify the retention in office of the corrupt gang at Ottawa, whom he denounced in most unmistakable terms as thieves. He said that if a poor, shivering mortal stole a coat to keep himself from perishing he would be clapped in gaol; but when men in Quebec steal $100,000, and at Ottawa $1,500,000, we justify it for the party.

He asked those men who cited England as an example of everything we should follow, to listen to what the English papers were saying about us. He then read lengthy extracts from English newspapers condemning the code of political morality established in Canada by the late Sir John Macdonald.

He closed with an eloquent appeal to his congregation not to permit the pure light of political morality and honesty, which has burned so slow in Canada, to sink into endless night.

MONTREAL, Aug. 31.—The Tories of the Gazette school are much annoyed over Mr. Johnston's attack upon Premier Mercier. They say the Orange leader showed bad tact in calling upon his friends to oppose "the Pope-blessed Count," as this will make Mr. Mercier stronger than ever among the French Canadians. They say the Quebec premier will not be slow to point out that he and his religionists have been insulted by the Orange leader from Ireland and to call upon the electorate to resent the interference of outsiders in Quebec's affairs. "This attack upon Mercier by Johnston," said a Tory boss sorrowfully today, "will give the Quebec government more strength than can be overcome by a hundred Pacaud scandals. I wish outsiders would mind their own business. Whenever they go poking their noses into Quebec's affairs they make capital for Mr. Mercier and his followers."

OTTAWA, Aug. 21.—The figures of the census complete the work of exposure of Tory methods which was partly done in the Privileges and Elections Committee and the Committee of Public Accounts. The revelations may be summed up in two words, plundering and blundering. From the national standpoint, while the plundering and blundering are lamentable in themselves, it is well that they have been discovered, and that at last the whole people are compelled to face the situation. That is the first step toward amendment. But from the point of view of the Tory party the cause of regret is not that Canada has been robbed of her money and resources and depleted of her population, but that these things have been found out. The most serious feature of the business is that the census exhibits in an almost ludicrous light the boasts and predictions of the Tory leaders and shows that the whole Tory policy has been a lamentable failure. Another feature of the case that is exceedingly embarrassing to the leaders is the effect that the census must have upon the redistribution of the constituencies. There is little doubt now that the representation of New Brunswick must be diminished by two, of Nova Scotia by one and of Prince Edward Island by one, while Manitoba will get two new members and the other Provinces and Territories will remain unchanged. This means that the total representation of the Maritime Provinces, now the stronghold of the Government, will be reduced from 43 to 39. The stumpers for the Government in these Provinces will have an unenviable task. They will not only have to make a confession most humiliating to the Government but they will have to meet a people whose local pride will be sorely wounded by the weakening of their representation in the House. Again, the task of rearranging in the constituencies of Quebec and Ontario will be no easy one. Toronto and Montreal each claim at least three new members, but this can be obtained only by reducing the representation of other parts of Ontario and Quebec, because the Provincial representation will not be increased. If a Kerry-mander is attempted it will be resented with all the strength of the Liberal party of 1891, which is a very different organization from the Liberal party of 1885. In those days the Tory whips counted on a majority of from 70 to 80. Now they are besides themselves with joy if they can work up a majority of 25, and more often it is somewhere between 15 and 20. For all these reasons the Tory's reflections on the redistribution are far from happy.

The man named Hooper has gone from Wilton to Sydenham where he is trying to mould over the people to make them believe they never had Salvation till he appeared there. Some have got so excited that they thought they could walk on the water and when they started the result was a narrow escape from drowning. Others thought they could fly and when they attempted to start from the top of a lumber pile they assumed serious injuries by striking the ground. Seems strange people will become so excited that they will allow themselves to believe they never had any salvation before and that all who ever wore jewelry and those who used tobacco all of those have gone to damnation. No! there are just as good people as Hooper and people who wore Jewellery who I firmly believe have gone to heaven and I think God never intended any man to criticise the people and call people who are trying to

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS

Law For Farmers.

In the columns of a daily it is laid down as good law that a farmer is not bound to have his gates closed on his farm or otherwise fenced to keep cattle out of it. Cattle going on his property through an open gate or otherwise are legally liable to be impounded. He is bound to have his cattle kept from trespassing on other people's property.

A Nationalist Plan.

A proposal, which would obtain favor with even the opponents of Nationalism, contemplates the placing of a supply sufficient for each family of nature's great dyspepsia specific and blood purifier, B. B. B., in every home in the land. The benefits of such a boon to the people would be incalculable.

Crickets Champion.

The celebrated Australian Cricket Team, of which Mr. David Scott is a noted champion, is safe against field injuries. Mr. Scott writes: "The effects of St. Jacobs Oil are magical. I used it for a terribly bruised leg. The relief was surprising." Members of all athletic clubs would be alike surprised at the results of its use.

Imperial Federation.

Will present an opportunity to extend the fame of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry the unfailing remedy for cholera morbus, colic, cramps, diarrhoea, dysentery, and all summer complaints, to every part of the Empire. Wild Strawberry never fails.

Milk Inspector.

Prof. Robert Rollins, milk inspector, has this season found eleven cases of adulterated milk in Lennox and Addington out of some dozen factories inspected; in Prince Edward seven cases, all admitted, out of five factories; and in Frontenac only three cases were found in twenty-four factories. Wherever he inspected last year he has found few cases this season, notably that of Frontenac, there being only one case in that county where he had inspected last year.

Can Not Compete.

Miss Maud Grant, of Mountain, Ont., writes "I can recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaints and diarrhoea. There is nothing to compete with it as it succeeds even in the severest cases."

Accident.

Jacob Kennedy, in the employ of the American Harrow Co., met with an accident at Mr. Geo. Park's, by falling through a hole in the barn floor, which is used for putting down feed, and which had been left open. Mr. Kennedy walked right into it; but did not go through, and has since been laid up with a stiff, swollen leg. Fortunately there were no bones broken.

Baby Was Sick.

My baby was very sick with diarrhoea and after everything else had failed I tried Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry: the first dose gave relief, and a perfect cure soon resulted.—Mrs. John Clark, Bloomfield, Ont.

Health, Happiness and Prosperity.

All these depend on pure blood, for without it health is impossible, and without happiness prosperity is a mockery. No means of obtaining pure blood and removing bad blood excels the use of B. B. B., the best blood purifier known.

The Toronto Industrial Fair will be Open in a few Days.

The great Industrial Exhibition will be opened at Toronto, Tuesday, Sept. 8th, is almost certain to eclipse all its predecessors and as the space in every building on the grounds has been taken up, and the entries of live stock and Agricultural products are far in excess of previous years. A long list of excellent attractions have been provided for every day of the fair, and as the harvest has this year been good and the railway rates will be low, there is every prospect of there being a larger attendance of visitors than at any previous Toronto fair.

all parts of Canada and the adjoining States. The harvest has this year been good, and the attendance of visitors to the great Fair may therefore be expected to be very large. The entries in all departments are sufficient to completely fill every building on the grounds as well as the new ones that have been erected during the summer. The Dominion and Experimental farms are each sending very important exhibits, showing the result of practical tests in the various departments in which the farming community are specially interested. British Columbia and Manitoba are also sending much larger exhibits than heretofore. The live stock exhibit will be very fine. The list of attractions as announced in the official programme issued by the Association is a very long one and cannot fail to please the visitors, as there will be something of interest to see every minute of the day and every day of the Fair. The Fair will be opened by Major General Herbert on the 8th of September, and closes on the 19th. The usual low rates and special excursions will be given on all the railways.

An Important Enterprise.

The Largest Agricultural Implement Manufacturing of Its Class in America.

THE AMERICAN HARROW COMPANY'S WORKS IN THIS CITY.

(From the Detroit Free Press)

It may not be generally known that in this city is located only one agricultural implement factory and only the largest of its class on the continent. Yet such is the case. Reference is made to the American Harrow Company's works located on Millwaukee Avenue, which a representative of THE FREE PRESS visited yesterday. The concern was established about nine years ago, and under the efficient management of experienced and enterprising men has steadily grown year by year till today it is one of the many prosperous industries of which Detroit is so justly proud. Its active officers are: D. M. Ferry, president, founder of the well known firm of seed merchants, D. M. Ferry & Co., whose fame is world wide. W. Gillett, vice-president, senior member of the firm of Gillett & Hall, the largest grain dealer in Michigan, and president of Preston National Bank; W. W. Collier, secretary and treasurer, and O. R. Baldwin, manager of sales, both shrewd, enterprising gentlemen of large experience and undoubted executive ability. The company confine their operations to the manufacture of spring tooth harrows, cultivators, seeders and stalk cutters—implements which are now considered by every progressive and scientific farmer indispensable to success in agricultural pursuits, and by the use of which the soil may be made more productive and the liability to failure of crops materially lessened.

Some idea of the magnitude of this industry may be gained from the fact that 110 men and 200 horses are constantly employed on the roads in various districts of the country supplying the demand, while a large force of mechanics and other assistants is necessary in the shops and offices for the production and shipment of the implements. A feature of this industry worthy of special note is the high quality of material used. The wood is carefully selected from the best grades and kept under cover till thoroughly seasoned, while the steel is rolled expressly for this purpose and every piece oil-tempered and put to the severest test before being permitted to leave the shops. The more than ordinary care thus given to the selection of material is the best guarantee to their patrons that the implements of this company possess the quality of durability in the highest degree.

The buildings are large, well ventilated, kept scrupulously clean, and with necessary outdoor space cover an area of four acres. A new brick building, 50x150 feet, which was found necessary for the accommodation of their increasing business, has just been completed.

It is not among American farmers only that the products of the American Harrow Company find special favor. The Canadian farmer is quite as quick as his American cousin to appreciate a good thing, and the demand for these implements over the border grew so pressing that it was deemed expedient to establish a factory there. The Canadian works are located at Windsor, Ont., where all the implements for the Canadian trade are made, and whence they are distributed to all parts of the Dominion.

The combined experience of the company's active officers and their accurate knowledge of the wants of farmers, gained from many years of experience on the road and the farm, together with the honorable, liberal and courteous treatment always accorded their customers, have won for the American Harrow Company a large and increasing business, and an enduring fame and popularity that is well nigh continental in extent.

The above firm has now eight teams and as many men making headquarters at the shop opposite the Market Square Napanee. They will call on the farmers of this vicinity the people and call people who are trying to do right, heathens, no he never asked for any such man to travel.

Odessa.

Mrs. (Rev.) Lambert is spending a few days visiting friends in Lindsay.

Mr. Sidney Clark has left for Virden, Manitoba. He will be missed in social circles here, being of jolly, genial disposition, which made him deservedly popular. We join with his many friends in wishing him success in his new home.

Rumor is current in social circles that a certain young belle of Odessa was united in marriage to a well known Ernestown boy on Wednesday evening, 26th ult. We extend congratulations to the fair young bride and her very amiable husband.

Mrs. Andrew Wycoff has left on a visit to Manitoba and the Northwest Territory. Mr. Bowen E. Aylsworth was in town on Wednesday, and, as usual, received a hearty welcome in Liberal circles.

Rumor hath it that the old Tory "war horse," B. Davis, is considering the advisability of his contesting the first deputy-reeveship next January.

Mr. Babcock is building an addition to the north end of the foundry. It is to be used as an engine house, its dimensions being 22x24. He has purchased an engine from the "Abel Manufacturing Co., Toronto," which is expected here this week.

Mr. J. G. Ettlinger, of Listowel, spent a day here, he being on his way to Garden Island to resume professional duties.

Billings Smith, of this place, met with a serious loss the other day by the death of his celebrated "high-flyer," No. 190,000 in the American fancy stock book. Mr. Smith's loss was a dandy and could easily outrun anything in the shape of horseflesh in this neighborhood. It fell a victim to that disease that afflicts man and beast—old age and a worn out constitution. Rumor says Billy has sustained his reputation as an energetic business man by buying another of even more excellent parts.

Township Council met in session for the first time since summer vacation, on Monday last. The members were all present and a large amount of important business was transacted.

The removal of A. E. Timmerman, Esq., caused a vacancy on the school board. The "powers that be" issued a call to the electors to meet in the school building on the morning of Saturday, Aug. 25th ult., for the purpose of electing a trustee to fill in Mr. Timmerman's unexpired time. As an evidence of the interest evinced by the electorate in school affairs it might be well to mention that this the largest school section in Ernestown could only muster four men to conduct so important a proceeding. Mr. Anson Storms was appointed chairman and J. W. Denyes, secretary.

It was moved by A. P. Booth, seconded by J. W. Denyes that Sidney J. Walker, of Odessa, be trustee in the place of A. E. Timmerman resigned. As these two gentlemen constituted a majority of those present there was no contrary motion and Mr. Walker was declared elected. This completing the business our embryo statesmen went down street to test public opinion as regards their appointment, when to their chagrin they discovered that they had rendered the whole proceedings farcical and void by electing a gentleman who holds the position of school section's auditor, hence being disqualified by law. We are not disposed to find fault with those gentlemen for being ignorant of Mr. Walker's disqualification, but we do consider that things have come to a pretty pass when the electorate have grown so careless as to allow a meeting of such importance to pass unattended. We have one of the finest buildings in the county and every facility for educating our youth and yet we regret to chronicle a conspicuous lack of public interest in educational affairs and a parental neglect of that which is fraught with so much importance to their posterity.

GENERAL OF THE CAPUCHINS.

Father Bernard d'Andermott Now in This Country.

Since 1837 the Capuchin Order has been established in this country. Rome is the residence of the Superior-General, and that official has never visited this country.

Father Bernard d'Andermott, the present Superior-General has arrived in New York, he and his secretary being passengers on the Gallia of the Cunard line. A delegation of Capuchin friars, headed by the Very Rev. Antonius Rittensteiner, the American provincial of the order, met them at the steamer's pier.

The Superior-General will remain in this country several months. He will visit every Capuchin monastery here, and will preside at the chapter of the order to be held in Detroit in September. It is expected that several important changes will be made by him. He will decide what Fathers are to have charges of the new Capuchin monastery at Yonkers.

Father Bernard was born in Switzerland in 1837. He joined the Capuchin order in 1855, and was ordained in 1860. He did missionary work in Switzerland, and occupied many important positions before he was elected Superior-General of the order on May 9, 1884. For the last two years he has been visiting Capuchin monasteries in all parts of the world. He spent a year in Africa, and was several months in the Orient. He had completed the visitation of the French and English houses when he sailed on the Gallia for this country.

WHY MEN CROSS THEIR LEGS.

some Queer Characteristics of Men of Talent in Working Hours.

Men generally cross their legs when there is least pressure on their minds. You will not very often find a man actually engaged in business with his legs crossed. The limbs at those times are straighter than at any other, because the mind and body work together. A man engaged in auditing accounts will seldom cross his legs; neither will a man writing an article or who is employed in any manner where his brain is actively engaged. When at work in a sitting posture the limbs naturally extend to the floor in a perfectly straight line. A man may cross his legs if he is sitting in an office chair discussing some proposition with another man, but the instant he becomes really in earnest and perceives something to be gained, his limbs uncross, he bends forward toward his neighbor and begins to use his hands.

But these observations are made to mankind in general. There are particular cases that are otherwise. There are certain men of distinguished talents who, when engaged in literary work, twist their legs into intricate coils. One of the most eminent dramatists in this country never abandons himself to deep thought without contorting his limbs, which are long and slender, into a kind of an angular scroll work under the table. Another man, whose poems appear most frequently in the magazines, seems actually to wring his emotions out of his legs as if they were sponges dipped in the divine affluence. However, these are exceptional cases of mannerisms by which certain men of brains are insensibly affected. Some men twist their beards when they are in deep thought, others scratch their heads abstractedly, while others again chew their finger nails. To this absent minded genius belongs now and then a man who can

The Napanee Express.
NAPANEE, FRIDAY, SEPT. 4, 1891.

It has been demonstrated beyond the shadow of an honest doubt that corruption has found its way into every hole and corner at Ottawa. There was a falling out among the thieves living upon the spoils from the Public Works department and Sir Hector and his assistants have been shown to be infested with corruption and to have no sense of decency or political morality. That his department has suffered most from recent investigations is due to the fact that the disclosures were made and the information was given by parties who were familiar with his crooked ways and had in former happy years pocketed some of the booty themselves but it does not follow that the department of Public Works is any more rotten than the other branches of the Administration. The probe has been inserted at random in the department of the Secretary of State and the Post Office department and there has issued forth such a stream of putrid matter that no one can stand the stench unless he were seasoned to it. But were the other pious ministers shocked? Not a bit of it! They have stifled enquiry, buried investigation and done everything they could to shield the scoundrels who have been systematically stealing the peoples' money until at length the public conscience has been so aroused that they seek to quiet it by sacrificing some poor clerk like Perley. Where is the remedy for all this to be found? It will not be in cutting off the heads of a few minor officials who have but copied their masters, the heads of the departments. Perley must be beheaded because he accepted $2,700 worth of jewellery from contractors. Sir Hector is to be canonized because he accepted $22,000 cash from the same parties and a few of that ilk. Nor will the remedy be found by cutting off the heads of all the guilty ministers, a rather extensive job and one the Government does not seem disposed to undertake, for their confreres in the house are of no better material. It was only last week that one of their number declared from the floor of the House that if a man with large contracts with the Government chose to make presents to the Ministers it was his own business and the opposition had no right to enquire into it. This appears to be a part of the Tory doctrine as this worthy gentleman was applauded for his clear and fair enunciation of the Tory view of the Heney contracts. There is nothing for it but turn out the whole gang of rascals and the day does not seem far distant when they will make their bow and slip down and out disgraced by their own acts and driven from public life by an incensed people whose till they have pilfered so long. The reduction of the government majority to 15 last week is not the only warning that their time is come. The treachery

COOL SUMMER DRINKS.
THIRST-QUENCHING DRAUGHTS TO REPLACE ICE WATER.
Sensible Suggestions in Making Beverages for Summer Which are Far Finer and Less Injurious Than the Usual Thing - A Few Good Recipes.

Canadians have been much criticised for an excessive use of icewater. Physicians continually cry out against it, and attribute a large percentage of the sickness incident to the summer season to this deplorable habit. It is within the province of the Canadian housewife to do much toward correcting this order of things, by substituting attractive beverages which satisfy the thirst more readily, and consequently do not offer the same temptation to overindulgence.

Fruit cordials, shrubs, and vinegars are among the most refreshing simple summer drinks, and possess the merit of being prepared at a moment's notice when the sirup has once been made. One of the finest of these is the shrub made from the black-cap raspberry. Connoisseurs consider the flavor much finer than that of the ordinary raspberry vinegar, which is made with red raspberries.

BLACK CAP SHRUB—Cover six quarts of the berries with good cider vinegar and let them stand for twenty-four hours. Strain through a colander upon six quarts of fresh berries. Allow them to stand twenty-four hours longer, then strain through a coarse, strong muslin bag. Measure the liquid and allow a pint of sugar to each pint of juice. Boil for ten minutes, skimming off any impurities which may rise to the top, then bottle and seal. In preparing a pitcherful of the shrub allow one-fourth sirup to three-fourths iced water. The color of this shrub is somewhat deeper than that made from red berries. As it is not always possible to procure the black caps a recipe for the red raspberry vinegar is given also.

RASPBERRY VINEGAR—Allow a pint of vinegar to every two quarts of berries. Let them stand two days, then mash and strain through a bag. Allow one pound of sugar, either granulated or loaf, to each pint of juice; boil twenty minutes and when partly cooled bottle and seal. Two or three tablespoonsful will be required to each glass of water.

Ginger ale is a beverage in great favor with our English cousins, and the following is a recipe most highly recommended.

GINGER ALE—One gallon of boiling water, one and one-half ounces of ginger, one ounce of cream of tartar, one pound of light-brown sugar, two lemons, one cupful of good yeast. Roll the lemons and slice them thin, removing seeds. Pour the boiling water upon the ginger, cream of tartar, sugar, and lemons, and let them cook together fifteen minutes. Set aside till almost cold, then add the yeast. Let it ferment for twenty-four hours, then strain and bottle. It is improved by standing several weeks before using. A few hours before the ale is wanted set the bottles on ice. This is a delightfully refreshing drink.

English nectar is another delicious drink for those who do not object to the wine. Use three lemons rolled and sliced thin, the juice of three oranges, one pint of cold water, and sugar enough to make quite sweet. Cut a dozen fine strawberries in halves and drop them into a tumbler of sherry. Add a pint of crushed ice to the lemon, and sugar, and last add the sherry in which the strawberries have soaked. Stir well and add more sugar if needed.

Within a few years syphons of soda-water have been placed in market for home use. The syphon is kept in the ice-box and with the addition of delicious home-made fruit sirups a better article of soda-water may be had than can be bought anywhere. If making preserves it is a simple matter to

THE RUSSET APPLES.

A late March twilight, with a bitter frost in the air; the new moon just dipping its golden horn behind the maple swamp in the west, and the ground sounding crispy under foot. We had just come in from foddering the cattle—"we" sounds rather singularly when you reflect that it meant Kitty and I, two girls of seventeen and nineteen; but you see there wasn't any one else to do it. Father had been bedridden ever since that last attack of paralysis, and we could afford to hire no one to take his place about the farm.

"I don't pity them gals," Neighbor Dyson said. "They might sell the horse and cow."

Neighbor Dyson had generously offered us something less than half price for them, thinking, no doubt, that we would be thankful to jump at the chance. But Kitty and I, after taking the matter into consideration, thanked him, and declined politely.

"We couldn't keep house without old Mooley, could we, Addy?" said my sister. "There are so many nice dishes we can make for poor father, if we have plenty of good, rich milk and cream. And the butter that we should have to buy at Neighbor Dyson's city prices would go far to counterbalance the money we should get for Mooley."

"And as for the horse," said I, "he eats but a little; and how on earth could we get around the country, even to the post-office, such weather as this, if it wasn't for old Dobbin, that we have had ever since I can remember."

So it happened that on this special March evening we had just come in from attending to the wants of our livestock.

Coal - Coal

I told you last year that I had come to stay, so here I am again, and it remains with the people to say how long I shall remain in the Coal Trade.

I take this opportunity to thank my patrons of last year for the liberal support they gave me, also, thank those who gave their sympathy. If those who supported me continue to do so, and those who were in sympathy give me their support this season I will continue to stay, but withdraw your support and I am out, and Coal must go back to $6 per ton.

If the other dealers say that I did not put down the price of Coal, why is it that Coal in Toronto the winter of 1890 was $6.50 and in Nanaimo $6? While in 1891 it was $6 in Toronto and $5.50 in Nanaimo.

My Coal this year is from the Wilkes-Barre District, and is of a superior quality, promoted by those who know, to be as good Anthracite Coal as there is in Pennsylvania.
Last year I was handicapped from the fact that I had only one chance to get in the coal market, while this year I had the chance of six firms to select from, and, therefore, have a better quality of coal than I had last year, and am prepared to sell as cheap as any other dealer in town.

Please call and inspect my coal before placing your order, and consult your own interests.

of our country during the last campaign will soon be exposed when the commissioners go to Washington again in October. The country is awakening, the census returns are ringing the death knell of the party that is depopulating our fair young country.
The man who seeks to excuse or defend the barefaced robbery that has been going on for so long is little better than the robber, and we are pleased to note that few are so low fallen in this riding. We have it on good authority that hundreds who voted against Mr. Allison at the recent elections would if another opportunity presented itself give him their support.
How could they do otherwise? He is on the side of right with those who are fighting out for us a battle which is sure to result in the freedom of our country from the worst gang of political boodlers of the nineteenth century, who have with their unclean hands besmeared the fair name of Canada and made it a bye word and synonym for jobbery and fraud. God grant their efforts may not be in vain.

It is said with considerable assurance and probably with a knowledge of the facts that there will be a general election for the Commons sometime in December of this year or January of next year. Various reasons are assigned for this action on the part of the Ministry at Ottawa, the principal one being that Lord Stanley has so willed it, in view of the gigantic boodling operations of which the Government is guilty. It has been proved that the present Government was elected through gross corruption, practiced in many constituencies, and it is not surprising to hear that the Governor-General is opposed to the retaining in office of a Government tainted with so many scandals. Another reason assigned for a general election is that the Conservative party are afraid to face the election courts, where many of them fear very unsavoury revelations, with a possibility that four or more ministers would be disqualified. To prepare the way for a new election we suppose there will be introduced during the present session a new distribution bill which will make as many safe seats as possible for the Government. The voters' lists are now being rushed forward to meet the emergency, and thousands upon thousands of dollars will be spent to make the lists as favorable as possible for the Conservative party. Mr. Mowat is content to appeal to the electors of the Province on the voters' lists as prepared by the municipal assessor, many of whom are strong Tories, and are appointed as assessors for that and no other reason; but it is not so with the Dominion. The Tories there must have a special list prepared almost entirely by men of their own party many of whom would strain a point to obtain a Tory vote. Jobbery on a gigantic scale, and plundering and blundering in every department, has been proved against the present administration at Ottawa, but whether the people are prepared to "turn the rascals out" will depend upon how much influence can be brought to bear on the individual voter in the shape of dollar bills. The electorate is responsible in a large measure for what has been done at Ottawa during the last ten years; but it is to be hoped there is yet enough electors in the Dominion to whom an honest Government is of more moment than a trifle of boodle fished from their own pockets under the guise of the N. P.

to a rich sirup to be used for the soda water. Raspberries, cherries, currants, peaches, and pine-apples all make excellent fruit sirup for this purpose.

Every housewife imagines she knows how to make lemonade, but the feeble insipid concoction so often offered is a convincing argument to the contrary.
Good lemonade requires plenty of lemons and sugar, and is improved by the addition of other fruits. A good rule calls for three lemons to one orange,
one scant cupful of sugar, and one-third of a cupful of strawberry juice; add a pint of pounded ice, stir well, then add a quart of iced water. The fruit sirups referred to will be found a great addition to plain lemonade. Raspberry, cherry and strawberry are the most desirable.

Half-frozen sherbet is popular at dinner on a hot day and is eaten, like punch, from dainty glasses with a spoon. The following rule is an excellent one: Sherbet—Two lemons, four oranges, white of two eggs beaten to a stiff froth, two cupfuls of sugar, one pint of cold water mix the ingredients thoroughly and freeze like ice-cream. If liked a glass of claret may be added also and will improve it for some tastes.

"A Tear Bottle."

A lachrymatory, or "tear bottle," is a slender necked shape reproduced in some of the modern wares from the old Roman bottles found in sepulchers, in which were believed to be stored up the tears shed from those gone before. This shape is still found among Spanish china and in Japanese wares, and it is well known that the Japanese copied in their pottery many ancient and modern shape of Europe.

Fight at a Camp Meeting.

BARNESVILLE, Md., Aug. 11.—The colored camp meeting here was the scene of a bloody fight yesterday, while the crowd was waiting for the evening train to convey them to their homes. A party of negroes engaged in a dispute over cigars, when one of them, Louis Brown of Richmond, Va., threw a stone at some of his companions. This caused the rest of the gang to draw revolvers and razors, and after a dozen shots were fired it was found Brown was killed.
Three of his companions were seriously wounded. Brown's body was left lying on the platform near the depot all night and presented a horrible spectacle. His pistol was still grasped in his right hand.

A Big Canadian Willow.

The Shelburne, N. S., Budget says; In the middle of George street, near its junction with Water, is the largest willow tree in Shelburne county. This tree when but a sapling was brought here from New York by the Loyalists in 1783. It measures twenty-one feet in circumference at the height of two feet from the ground. The street where the tree stands is sixty-six feet wide, but the branches reach far out on all sides, overreaching each block on its north side, and on its south side about twenty-five feet. A circle down around the tree at the extreme points to which the branches reach would measure about two hundred and forty feet. Many years ago the branches were cut off, reducing the tree to a stump about twenty feet high. But the stump, indignant at the woodman who did not spare the tree, straightway went to work, as aforesaid, throwing out its branches in every direction. And now we have the huge and picturesque tree, whose glory, possibly, is worthy of comparison with that of the cedars of Lebanon.

The Yukon River.

An Alaskan explorer says of his voyage down the Yukon river: "It was the grandest river journey I ever made, and I doubt whether there is a river in the world that can equal it for magnificent scenery. For miles we floated down between huge rocky banks that towered fully 3,000 feet above our heads. The sky looked like a blue slit and the echoes between these stony ramparts were something that would have driven a solitary man crazy. The same sound was there hurled back at you a dozen times, coming from far and near at the same time."

pussy, who came to meet us with her plumy tail erect; but Kitty leaned sadly against the wooden mantel and looked into the fire with mournful eyes.

"Kitty," cried I, at last, "what does make you so dull?"

"To-morrow is the 31 of March," said
she, gravely.

"What of that?" I demanded.

"Don't you remember? The interest on the mortgage comes due to-morrow."

"So it does," said I, my radiant face falling faster than the thermometer on a freezing day. "Thirty-five dollars! And we have nothing to pay it with except the fifteen dollars Laura Osgeod paid for the old melodeon."

"Perhaps Willis Avery would wait,"
I drew myself up, slightly.

"I don't choose to ask him to wait,"
said I.

Now, it happened that Willis Avery,
who held the mortgage on our homestead, was the son of a neighbor and an old playfellow and boy-beau of my own, who had gone to the prosperous young city a few miles north of us and commenced business on his own account, and I had a peculiar aversion to asking aid or help of him in any way. I might be poor, but I was also proud, and Kitty was quite sympathetic enough to understand me.

"But, then, what are we to do?"
said Kitty.

I sat down on the hearth rug, with my chin in my hands, and stared earnestly at the big crackling black log.
Pussy crept away and nestled down in the corner, as if she knew by instinct that there was a change of temperature.

"Look here, Kitty," said I, suddenly.
"Those russet apples!"

"Well?"

"We can sell them. There are eight barrels at the least. Eight barrels at two dollars and fifty cents a barrel—"

"My dear Addy, no one will buy them at one-fifth the price. Apples are a drug in the market."

"Here, I grant you, but not in the city. I will take them to Mapleton and sell them."

"You will, Addy?"

"And why not? Squire Dyson would charge at least twenty per cent. commission, and make a favor of it at that.
I can't afford either the price or the patronage. Don't say any thing about it to father. He would only fret and raise objections. What must be done, must be, and I am the girl to do it."

"But, Addy, how? All this seems so perfectly wild and visionary to me."

"Well, it needn't be; for, believe me, it's the most practical thing in the world. All we have to do is to sort the apples out in barrels, nice and sound—I can easily do it by lantern light to-night
—and to-morrow morning we'll rise early, harness old Dobbin to the lumber-wagon—"

"But how are we to get the heavy barrels up into the wagon?"

"Goosie!" cried I, laughing. "Can't I put the barrels up into the wagon while they're empty, and fill them at my leisure? And I'll have them sold at Mapleton before you've got the pork and cabbage boiling for dinner."

"But where will you go?" asked Kitty.

"Oh! I know lots of places. I went once to town with Obediah Fairweather, when he sold a lot of cheeses. I've pretty good idea of the locality of the commission stores, I can tell you."

"After all, Addy," hesitated my conservative little sister, "it isn't a woman's work."

"Why isn't it, I should like to know, so long as a woman can do it. At all events, a woman must pay her debts;
so if you'll hurry up the tea I'll be off to the barn."

"And what shall we tell papa?"
"Oh! he'll think I've gone to singing-school with the Dyson girls, and I don't think it's a Christian duty to undeceive him," answered I.

But notwithstanding the brave face I put upon affairs, my heart quivered a little the next day as I drove off toward Mapleton, with the scarlet stain of sunrise dyeing all the east, and my own checks flushed with the keen morning air.

But it wasn't so bad, after all. With pardonable egotism, I supposed that every one would be staring at me; but on the contrary, a young woman selling apples might be the commonest sight in the world, so little comment or surprise did it apparently excite. Mr. Holloway of the firm of Holloway Brothers, produce and commission merchants, didn't want any apples I speedily learned.

"Just bought a shipload from Albany," said he, as carelessly as if shiploads of apples were as common a purchase as ten cents' worth of tape. And I drove on, beginning to feel infinitesimally small.

Mr. Lovejoy could give me one dollar a barrel. "Apples wasn't worth no more at this season of the year!" And I whipped old Dobbin up, determined to carry them home again, sooner than sell at that price.

"At the next place where I stopped a pleasant-looking, middle-aged man came out and critically examined my apples.

"Do they hold out like this all the way down?" he asked.

"I'll warrant them," said I, carelessly.

"How much?" he asked.

"Two dollars and a half a barrel."

He reflected.

"It's a good price," said he, as if he were talking to his own vest buttons; "but then they look like good apples, and we've a tolerably large Western order to fill. I'll see what my partner thinks."

He went back into the gloomy depths of his store, and I, happening to glance up, saw the words painted in black letters over the door: "Hull & Avery."

My first impulse was to drive on and leave the chance of a bargain behind me; my next to sit still and await my fate as Providence dealt it out to me. And presently out came Willis Avery himself.

"I think we will take your load if—why?" breaking short off, "it's Addy Walters!"

I colored scarlet.

"Yes," said I, as composedly as possible. "Good morning, Mr. Avery. I shall

TWO MEN AND NINE CARS

PLUNGED INTO BURLINGTON CANAL
TO DEATH AND DESTRUCTION.

An Open Drawbridge and the Awful Consequences—The Bridge Tender Not to Blame—One Body Recovered; the Other Yet Beneath the Debris—An Inquiry to be Held.

HAMILTON, Sept. 1.—Shortly before midnight yesterday a serious railway accident occurred at the canal at Burlington beach, involving the loss of two lives and much damage to rolling stock.

On Sunday afternoon a train of 23 coal cars left Fort Erie for Toronto, drawn by engine 259. Conductor Campbell was in charge, and Engineer William Hall was on the engine with Fireman W. J. Crouch. The train took the short cut across the Beach from Stoney Creek, instead of coming around the end of the bay. The night was stormy and a gale was blowing from the east. Engineer Hall had been along there before, but he seems to have got mixed with the lights and the noise and darkness. There is a heavy grade northward towards the bridge, and he ran up at a high rate of speed.

There is a very stringent rule that every train must come to a stop before reaching the bridge, but Hall says he did not think he was so near the canal until it was too late to do anything. Then he shouted to his fireman and jumped.

Engineer Armstrong, who operates the bridge, had heard the train approaching and was just preparing to close the bridge, when, to his horror, he heard the train come thundering on towards the open chasm. "It was all over in an instant," said Armstrong. With a tremendous plunge the great engine shot over the brink and disappeared beneath the black water. Nine cars went tumbling after it, crash after crash, the lights were extinguished, and a terrible silence followed. For a few moments the few men who rushed to the scene were paralyzed by the occurrence, not knowing in the storm and darkness what to do. Then the cries of a drowning man were heard in the canal as if the swimmer was being swept along by the current towards the bay.

When the train crew got together it was found that the fireman and a brakeman named Robert Shaw was missing. The fireman probably jumped into the canal, for it was his cries that were heard, and this morning his body was found about 50 feet from the very successful," said she, "and my husband was not despondent. He had completed arrangements to go to St. Catharines and then to Toronto. I was not in the house when the accident occurred." It is to be hoped McCowell will recover. He is a young man, and it is too bad that he should meet with such an accident when fortune is coming his way.

THE CAPITAL BUDGET.

A Full Day—The Labor Commissions Report—Mr. Bowell Convalescent.

OTTAWA, Sept. 1.—In the House yesterday Sir John Thompson said, in reply to Mr. Trow, that at this and at the last session legislation was introduced based on the report of the Labor Commission. The Government intends to complete and carry out the legislation at a further session when it may seem fit.

THE RAILWAY SCANDAL.

The investigation into the Baie des Chaleurs Railway scandal was resumed by the Senate Railway Committee last night. George A. Taylor, contractor for the first 20 miles, said that his affidavit was correct, which stated that $370,000 had been paid Senator Robitaille's company, and that he had received only $252,000. It was on the affidavit that Francois Langelier bases the charge of embezzling $118,000 against the old company. Taylor said to-night that his firm did not complete the work, that the construction of the engine house, round table, water tanks, telegraph lines, rolling stock, etc., had to be done by the company, and that the cost of these items would come out of the $118,000 obliged to be embezzled.

A. M. Thom, secretary-treasurer of the new company, said he conducted all the negotiations to secure the road both with the Government and the old company. His interviews with the Government were purely of a business character. Nothing was said about the payment of any money to Mr. Pacaud or to any one else. During all the negotiations he only saw Mr. Pacaud twice and then nothing was said about the contract. He first heard of the payment of $100,000 to Mr. Pacaud in the committee here.

MORE CENSUS RETURNS.

Further census returns have been received at the Department of Agriculture from the district of Alberta, which give that district a total population of 26,123, instead of 20,056, as contained in the partially estimated statement furnished to Parliament last week. The increase of population, therefore, for the provisional district in the North-west territories from the returns so far received, is 49,030 instead of 35,972. The percentage

BARONESS DE VETZERA LIFTS THE VEIL OF A ROYAL SUICIDE.

The Story of the Tragical End of the Crown Prince of Austria and the Young Baroness Marie de Vetzera Now Told Fully by the Latter's Mother.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A double suicide, or a murder and suicide, occurred at Mayerling, Austria, on Jan. 30, 1889, that shocked the world and raised a great sensation. At that time the young Baroness Marie de Vetzera was found dead along with her lover, the Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria.

So many rumors were circulated at the time concerning the young girl that her mother, Baroness de Vetzera, resolved that the whole truth should be known, and to this end edited a story, which was put into the form of a volume, to vindicate her daughter, and 50 copies were printed. The Emperor learned of the intended publication, and orders were issued which caused the seizure of the volumes. The manuscript was saved, and from it the story is told.

It gives a consecutive narrative of the affair in so detailed a way that its accuracy apparently cannot be called into question. An important feature, according to the mother's story, is the infamous part played in the tragedy by no less a personage than the niece of the Empress of Austria. This distinguished lady's actions are given with the fullest of detail, and the pamphlet accuses her of being not only the intermediary but a blackmailer as well. Baroness Marie's last letters to her family are likewise made public, and the story is told how a fortune-teller was made to play a mysterious part in the tragedy.

Briefly summarized, and as told in the young girl's letters, the story is that Baroness Marie Vetzera, then 17 years old, fell in love at first sight with the Crown Prince, and that she frequently met him in the ordinary social way. Finally she intrusted her secret to Countess Larisch, the Empress of Austria's niece, and this lady at once undertook to act as a go-between, while taking advantage of her knowledge of the state of affairs to levy blackmail from the Prince.

At one time the mother of the girl suspected that something was amiss, but Countess Larisch was ready with some plausible tale. The facts of all this are given in great detail in the mother's pamphlet. At last the his cries that were heard, and this morning his body was found about 50 feet from the ferry, where he had sunk. The breakman was on the cars, and it is thought his body is under the wreckage. Both men came from Point Edward, as do all the rest of the crew. Shaw is a married man and his friends live near Dorchester. Crouch was single.

On the news of the disaster being telephoned to the city a wrecking train with a gang of men was sent. A coal car hung suspended over the brink of the canal, and in the water beneath a few mounds of coal and wreckage were visible above the surface. The engine went down completely out of sight, and then the cars popped over on top of it, one after the other, until the wreck was piled as high as the surface of the water, which is about 20 feet deep at that point. The train must have been running at a high rate of speed, for its momentum carried the cars nearly across the canal. Luckily, however, there remains an open space between the wreck and the north pier wide enough for the steamers to pass if they feel their way carefully.

By 2 a. m. a large gang of workmen with flaming torches were hard at work clearing the approach to the bridge.

After pulling the overhanging car on the track, it was found that the rails were all right and the bridge was swung into position, making the road open for traffic again by 5 o'clock. The most of the wreckage is still in the canal and it will be a big task clearing it out. Superintendent Stiff is going to send to Kingston for a marine wrecking outfit and a steam derrick. The coal will have to be dredged up and lighted, and the heavy engine lifted on to a flat boat with the derrick. The cars that went down are smashed to pieces and some of the car boxes floated away.

There will be an inquest on the bodies of the killed, in order to find who is responsible. The bridge tender is exonerated from any blame in the matter, as every train is ordered to stop before reaching the bridge and wait until signalled to come on.

The cause of the accident is ascribed to the fact that the men were not familiar with the road, having only been over it once before.

The Grand Trunk Railway people borrowed a complete diving suit from the Waterworks Department yesterday to be used by Mr. A. Coghill in connection with the accident at Burlington Canal.

INVENTOR MCCOWELL SHOT.

The Clever Mechanic Lying at the Point of Death.

HAMILTON, Sept. 1.—With a bullet in his brain Inventor John T. McCowell lies at the point of death at his residence 39 Dundurn street. The chances of his recovery are slim, and it is doubtful if he will live to enjoy the fruits of his many years of toil and anxiety. Mr. McCowell is the inventor of a clever piece of mechanism, (The Little World), consisting of over 100 automatic figures which was on exhibition here recently. He used to work at freemasonry's wire works, and for seventeen years he labored at his invention, spending all the time he could. He completed it a couple of months ago and resigned his position to go on the road with it.

Monday ugly rumors were flying around that McCowell became despondent because his invention was not the financial success he anticipated and that he had shot himself. It was said that he expected to exhibit it at the Toronto exposition, but the directors wanted $1,500 for the space and McCowell determined to rent a store. The reports of the attempted suicide were denied and it was claimed that the shooting was purely accidental. The doctors say that shortly before eight o'clock Monday morning McCowell was making preparations to go to Toronto. He was sitting on the bed cleaning a 32-caliber revolver when it suddenly discharged, and the bullet penetrated the centre of the forehead, entering the brain. Mrs. McCowell was at church, and the only ones in the house were the children, Manie, the eldest, being ten years old. She was in the adjoining room and heard the report, but thought it was caused by the shutting of a gate. When Mrs. McCowell returned from church she was horrified to see her husband lying on the bed. He was unconscious. There was an ugly wound in his head, and the bedclothes were saturated with blood. The revolver was on the floor. The frightened woman immediately summoned medical aid, and Dr. McCabe arrived shortly afterwards. He did what he could for the sufferer. Doctors Ridley and Malloch were summoned. After a consultation they decided to probe for the bullet, but they were unsuccessful. They have very little hope of McCowell's recovery.

Mrs. McCowell denied that her husband shot himself. "The invention has been

A Lion Mangles a Clown.

MONTREAL, Sept. 1.—While a circus procession was patrolling the streets yesterday two lions in one of the cages commenced fighting, and the clown, James Lowlen, in attempting to quiet them got too close to the cage, and was caught by one of the lions. The enraged animal pulled pulling him against bars with one paw, hit him some terrible blows with the other, laying bare the scalp, cutting the neck in a fearful manner and wounding him severely about the face. Fortunately the other employees rushed in and rescued him, or he would doubtless have received fatal wounds. A doctor was called in and expressed the opinion that the wounded man would recover if erysipelas does not set in.

A Parachute Jumper Killed.

CHICAGO, Sept. 1.—Professor Hart, a parachute jumper, was fatally hurt yesterday afternoon at Spring Grove Park, near this city, while attempting to make an ascension. The balloon had risen about 30 feet when the rope became entangled in the branches of a tree. Hart was on a trapeze, and when the balloon began swaying lost his hold and fell to the ground. His right leg was broken, and he sustained other injuries which will cause his death.

Will Sign To-day

TORONTO, Sept. 1.—Mr. Phillips Thompson has withdrawn his suit in the Toronto street railway franchise, intended to establish a bond on the part of the Kiely-Everett syndicate and certain aldermen, for want of funds. Yesterday the property of the concern was appraised, to see if any of it had escaped, and the Mayor will sign the contract to-day.

A Japanese Typhoon.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 1.—The steamer Empress of India brings news of a great typhoon in Japan that caused the loss of 200 lives. The typhoon began on the evening of Aug. 19, and lasted until the following night. The German vessel Helena Rickmers was driven ashore from her anchorage and wrecked. Twenty or thirty of her crew are believed to have been drowned.

case. The faces of all this are given in great detail in the mother's pamphlet. At last the girl fled to Mayerling, by pre-arrangement with the Prince, and a few hours later her death was known by the Emperor, but not by the mother, who in vain implored the chief of police and Count Taaffe, the Austrian Premier, to cause a search to be instituted for her daughter. The truth of the double suicide or murder and suicide is at last definitely established by this publication. The news of the death was broken to the mother by the Empress of Austria herself.

The pamphlet shows that the Prince's mind had long before been given to thoughts of suicide, but that Marie did her best to dissuade him from this fatal step. It was not until hope for both of them had fled that she resolved to share his death.

For the first time it revealed the indignities offered to her dead body. How she was carried away in a sitting posture between her two uncles, even a coffin being denied her when moving her; how her mother was persecuted and vilified, however everything was done to lay the blame on the girl, forms a harrowing story as told by the mother. The alleged falsehoods circulated about her are exposed and the daughter's dying messages given.

International Grain Market.

VIENNA, Sept. 1.—The international grain market for 1891 opened here yesterday, with a large attendance. Herr Haardt, from the Department of Chief of the Ministry of Commerce, in a speech dwelt upon the special importance of the present market, from the fact that its object was to devise a means of supplying the shortage of grain existing in the large centres.

The dealings to-day were limited. There was no spot business done in wheat, futures were firm. The best barleys sold on the spot at full rates. Inferior grades were neglected. Autumn wheat was quoted at 10.67 to 10.70 florins, spring wheat at 10.27 florins, autumn rye at 10.38 florins, spring rye at 10.58 florins, autumn oats at 6.27 florins, new maize at 6.28 florins. Thirty trucks of old maize fetched 6.33 florins.

An Extensive Bank Robbery.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—A despatch from Genoa says: An Englishman, name unknown, called at the office of a money changer, Sig. Ghisoli, and asked him to change a £10 Bank of England note. Sig. Ghisoli, fearing the note might have formed a part of a recent Bank of England robbery to the extent of $250,000, took down a list of the numbers of the stolen notes in order to compare them with that of the note offered. When he did this the Englishman walked out and disappeared, leaving the £10 note behind. The Genoese police are looking for him. This is the first public information here that such a robbery had occurred, and the Scotland Yard officials, so far as can be discovered, profess ignorance of such a robbery or decline to commit themselves.

Death of Sally, the Chimpanzee.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—Sally, the famous chimpanzee of the London Zoological Gardens, is dead. She had been the most popular figure in the Gardens since Barnum took Jumbo to America. Sally could actually count up to the figure seven and would take the arm of a person with whom she was acquainted and walk up and down in public. Scores of scientific men have studied her. The late Charles Darwin was well acquainted with her. She was never married. I saw her principal keeper to-day. He cried like a baby over her death. For eight years Sally has never been alone; keepers have guarded her every moment in watches of eight hours each. She is to be suffled.

THE IRISH PRISONERS.

Pardon For Them Sued For by a Phoenix Park Meeting.
LONDON, Sept. 1.—An immense amnesty meeting was held yesterday in Phoenix Park, Dublin, with the object of obtaining the pardon of Irish prisoners under sentence for alleged dynamiting and other crimes of a partly political character. The weather was fine and the sun shone from a cloudless sky. Multitudes attended from Dublin and other cities, bands of music preceding the arrival of each deputation.

The meeting resolved that the time had arrived for the release of all political prisoners now under penal sentences, that whatever error they had committed in seeking to achieve the right by wrongful methods had been sufficiently atoned for by their sufferings, and that the Government ought without further delay to order their release. It was voted that copies of the resolutions should be sent to Lord Salisbury, Chief Secretary Balfour, Lord Zetland and House Secretary Matthews.

Another Mining Disaster.

LONDON, Sept. 1.—An explosion of fire damp took place yesterday in the Malaga colliery near Badminton, Somersetshire. The explosion occurred at 3 o'clock; when only a small force of men was in the mine. The concussion shattered all the windows in the houses near the shaft and wrecked all the shaft working. The bodies of seven dead miners have been recovered and two others are missing. About a dozen men are seriously injured.

THE LAST ACT IN CHILI.

SANTIAGO SURRENDERS TO THE REVOLUTIONARY FORCES.

The Civil War of the Past Seven Months Practically Closed—Balmaceda so Low That There Be None to do Him Honor—His House Burned.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The Herald's cable from Valparaiso, Chili, says: "The Chanaral Regiment of the Congressional army took formal possession of Santiago last night and practically the last act in the drama of revolution which has torn Chili to pieces for the past seven months is closed. The capital city was in the hands of a blood-thirsty mob last night, and while it was unable to satisfy its murderous instincts it did destroy a vast amount of property. As soon as the news reached Santiago yesterday of the overwhelming defeat of the Government troops on the height of Placilla and the far-off Valparaiso, and the people knew that Balmaceda's power was gone and they had nothing to fear from his wrath, their enmity to his government broke forth. The cry was raised that the President should be killed and a mob started for his house. It grew in numbers and fury as it went through the streets, and by the time it reached the executive mansion was ripe for any bloody deed. Short shrift would have been allowed to the President had he been caught. He knew that he would have little chance for his life if he remained in Santiago, and at the first receipt of the news of his defeat he hid himself, and the blood-thirsty desire of the mob was balked. The mob's desire for revenge found vent in the application of the torch. Soon Balmaceda's house was a mass of flames. Before it had been destroyed the mob marched off to the house of Senor Godar, the ex-Minister of the Interior, and an ardent Balmacedist, and set his house on fire. Then the residences of Balmaceda's mother, General Barbosa, who was killed at the battle of Placilla. Senors McKenna and Eastman, the Government newspaper offices and the houses of several prominent officials were burned to the ground.

The city was panic-stricken. Business was suspended, and people outside of the mob kept close to their houses. The sky was lurid with light from the burning buildings. The police, the fire department and the army were demoralized and made not the semblance of an attempt to maintain order. Balmaceda, when he heard of the fall of Valparaiso, sent for General Baezcano, commander of the Government troops in Santi-

The Crops in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—Agricultural societies in the province and territories are manifesting great interest in the inter-provincial exhibit of grain for the special prize offered by the C.P.R. authorities.

Harvesting is progressing very rapidly, and it is becoming more apparent every day that there is little or no damage from frost. Not more than three districts have been touched, and even in these the crops have been but slightly injured. The weather is magnificent for harvesting, and the yield in all parts is proving greater than even the most sanguine had anticipated. Fully 50 per cent. of the crop is already out. Barley is yielding 50 bushels to the acre.

70 Miles an Hour on the C. P. R.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—The C. P. R. "flying special" arrived here yesterday morning at 8 o'clock and left again at 9. Run from Banff to Winnipeg, a distance of 920 miles, was made in 23 hours, including stops, making an average of 40 miles an hour. The run from Canmore to Gleichen, 123 miles, was made in 1 hour and 23 minutes, and from Gleichen to Medicine Hat, 125 miles, 2 hours and 25 minutes, including stops. At times a rate of 70 miles an hour was attained, and 50 and 60 miles an hour was quite frequent. The regular express, which arrives at 4.30 this evening, left Vancouver 24 hours ahead of flyer, so that it was beaten by 3 1/2 hours.

To Be Pressed to the Bitter End.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—It is evident that charges made at Ottawa against Lieutenant-Governor Schultz in connection with supplies, etc., to the ill-fated yacht Keewatin are to be pressed to the bitter end, and a most rigid examination is about to be made by authorities at the capital. James Stewart of Selkirk was subpoenaed yesterday to appear at Ottawa to give evidence. It is believed that Mr. Stewart will be the chief witness against His Honor. Two other witnesses will also go to corroborate his testimony.

Lost at Sea.

HALIFAX, N. S., Sept. 1.—The schooner Pathfinder of Gloucester arrived here yesterday from the Banks. She reports two of her men missing. They left in a dory several days ago to attend trawls and did not return. They are both natives of Newfoundland.

Hamilton's Street Railway Thief.

HAMILTON, Sept. 1.—John Callahan, who pleaded guilty to the theft of $12,000 from the Street Railway Company, was today sentenced to two years imprisonment in the Provincial Penitentiary. The prisoner returned all the money he had stolen.

paraiso, sent for General Balmaceda, commander of the Government troops in Santiago. A council of war was held, at which President Balmaceda, the generals, and other leading Balmacedists were present. The situation was thoroughly canvassed and it was decided that a further continuation of the struggle was hopeless and that the surrender of the capital was the only proper course. There are all sorts of rumors about the movements of President Balmaceda. It is stated on good authority that he went by a special train yesterday to Talcahuano on Concepcion Bay and that there he will make connection with the Condell and Imperial, and in one of these vessels, probably the former, make for Buenos Ayres or Monte Video. If this is so he will in all probability escape.

SYNDICATES FOR SMUGGLING.

How the Heathen Chinese is Said to be Smuggled Into the U. S.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 1.—Assistant secretary of the Treasury Spaulding is in St. Paul en route to Washington. Spaulding has just come out of the wilds of British Columbia and the northwestern border of the United States. One object which has in particular engaged his attention is the illegal entry of Chinamen into the United States from British Columbia and Canada, and the smuggling of merchandise across the border.

"There is no doubt that the Chinamen are coming into the United States in considerable numbers," said Secretary Spaulding. "Of course every one knows that the entry of Chinese laborers into this country is prohibited by act of Congress.

"There are organized syndicates in British Columbia and Canada that makes a business of carrying these fellows across at so much per head, and they are finding it a profitable business. One syndicate receives a consignment of Chinamen, carries them a certain distance and turns them over to another firm until the fellows are safely landed on this side. I have no doubt that many contracts are made direct at Hong Kong by the agents of these syndicates.

"A treaty with Canada soliciting her aid in our efforts to stop the smuggling might be productive of good results in the interior."

They Smashed the Record.

INDEPENDENCE, Ia., Sept. 1.—Records were smashed at Rush Park yesterday. Pat Downing, who obtained a race record of 2.18 on Saturday, went yesterday against the clock in 2.16.

Kurran Bros. today valued him at $40,000, as a horse capable of a lower mark. Gallo Rex, to beat 2.30 1/2, paced in 2.27 1/2. Muscovite, to beat 2.28 1/2, trotted in 2.21 1/2. Buzz, to beat 2.22 1/2, trotted in 2.20 1/2. Alix, to beat 2.19 1/2, trotted in 2.16 1/2. Reserve Fund, to beat 2.30 trotted in 2.16 1/2. Allerton lowered his record from 2.12 to 2.11. The quarters were made in 33.1, 1.06 1/2, 1.39. Manager Holding, the 3-year-old stallion record for pacers of 2.13, reduced the mark to 2.11 1/2.

The Sea Gull's Eight Survivors.

NEW YORK, Sept. 1.—The steamer Arizona which arrived yesterday brought with her eight members of the ship Sea Gull which was wrecked in a terrific gale of wind on the African coast. There were 26 all told in the Sea Gull's crew, and of these all were drowned saved the eight men picked up by the Arizona, which included the first mate, cook and six of the crew. When the Arizona found them they were floating on a small raft in the middle of the Atlantic and frantically waving signals of distress. All of them were terribly emaciated from hunger and exposure and some were hardly able to stand when lifted to the Arizona's deck.

Seizure of a Steamer.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., Sept. 1.—Captain Tozier of the U. S. revenue cutter Walcott yesterday seized the American steamer George E. Starr, belonging to the Union Pacific Company and plying between Port Townsend, Pt. Anghis and Victoria, on a charge of smuggling Chinese into the U. S. from British Columbia. Several Chinese were found on the vessel, and when arrested they said they had been taken aboard at Victoria by officers of the vessel. The officers of the steamer were arrested.

A Railway Death List of 12.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 1.—A wreck occurred on the Carrollton branch of the Louisville, Evansville & St. Louis Railway yesterday. Four lives were lost, 13 persons were badly and 18 slightly injured. The flange of a forward truck of the engine broke while the train was going 30 miles an hour. The train was on a trestle and plunged down the embankment. The fatally injured will swell the death list to 10 or 12.

—Deseronto has kept a society known as the Deseronto tramps. They are not the kind that seek protection at the police court, but are a walking club. They walked to Belleville last week. They intend tramping to Kingston shortly.

—On Saturday the mail line steamer Spartan got stuck on a sand bar in Belleville harbor and all her efforts to get off were unavailing. The steam barge Resolute tried to pull her off but was unable to do so; it was found necessary to send to Deseronto for a tug. The tug and the barge between them got her off about one o'clock, Sunday.

—J. Gibbard & Son are offering the greatest bargains ever known in Parlor Suits, and it is no uncommon occurrence for a customer coming in their ware rooms to buy a set of sitting room chairs, when shown the beautiful plush parlor suits at $45, to conclude they are the best value offered and take them instead of the chairs.

—The JOURNAL OF COMMERCE gives good advice when it advises everyone to take advantage of the good crops to pay up. Get out of debt should be the motto of the year. Both business men and farmers should straighten up rather than spread out. In prosperity it is well to prepare for adversity. Good crops do not come every year; they are rather the exception than the rule. They should be utilized to make a general clearance of old debts.

passed through Napanee on their wheels on the road to the Limestone city. They made the journey in four and a half hours. In the afternoon they returned.

—At the market yesterday Mr. McLeod, of the Belleville road, brought on some honey for sale. A swarm of bees belonging to somebody in town collected around the rig and there was a continual buzz causing a great many to keep their distance.

A band will be in attendance during the afternoon; and tea will be given from 5 to 6.30 p.m. The day will be closed with a full choral evening service.

—The Deseronto Tribune in a late issue draws attention to the conduct of several prominent citizens of Belleville, one of them occupying one of the highest official positions in the city, who recently visited Mosquito Bay in a white sail boat and exploded dynamite for the purpose of killing fish. In this they were successful as the presence of hundreds and even thousands of little dead fish proves. They really deserve punishment, but perhaps some of them are not easily affected by the appearance of writs.—Ontario.

—The recent rains in various parts of the country have caused many farmers to fear that the potato crop will be seriously injured. According to an exchange a farmer tried an experiment last year, which proved successful in preventing part of his crop from rotting. When he saw that the potatoes showed signs of rot, he cut and removed the top from about one half the path. Upon digging up the vegetables a few weeks later he found all those sound which had been cut; the others, however, were unfit for use. The experiment is at least an easy one to make.

—The Oswego Times states that while the schooner Snow Bird which plies between Deseronto and Oswego was lying at the McMurich trestle at Oswego, Capt. Baird and his men had occasion to go down town on business, leaving Mrs. Baird, the captain's wife, alone on board. As soon as they were gone two men who were seated near by got up and came to the schooner and one asked Mrs. Baird for some bread, saying that he was hungry. Mrs. Baird kindly got the bread and came back and found that the two men had boarded the schooner. As she gave the man the bread he suddenly seized her by the throat, and flourishing a keen knife, said that he would kill her if she made a noise. Mrs. Baird was so frightened that she dared not scream for help, and while the man held her, his companion went into the cabin and ransacked it, getting $15 in money. The men then hastily decamped. The police arrested two men named Connors and Fitzsimmons and they were committed for trial.

—ALL AGES AND CONDITIONS of people may use National Pills without injury and with great benefit.

On Friday morning last about seven o'clock, a number of Workmen and some friends assembled at the Grand Trunk station to "take in" the advertised excursion to Ogdensburg. The morning, so far as the weather was concerned, was not all that could be desired. It had rained heavily during the preceding night, and the sky was still heavily flecked with clouds, although the sun shone almost continuously. The number assembled, probably from this cause, was not as large as was hoped; but what was lacking in numerical strength was amply made up for by exuberant spirits and good fellowship of the 150 or thereabouts who promptly boarded the cars for Kingston shortly after seven o'clock. The improvements being made in the track of railway obtained considerable notice during the ride to the Limestone city, many commendations being heard as to the solidity of the new work, and the convenience to the public which must result from the double track, business men appreciating at once the advantages, which will accrue to the G. T. R. shareholders and the public. On reaching the docks at Kingston, without change of cars, the steamer Maud was found waiting for her passengers, all ready for a start. In a short time the crowd of people were all on board, and away the gallant steamer moved through the very lumpy waters which caused the large boat to move in a rather unpleasant manner to those unaccustomed to sailing or liable to seasickness. This continued until the gap was passed, and the river fairly entered, when with a strong wind aft, a freely running tide, and a full head of steam the boat began to descend the mighty river, standing as steadily up out of the seething waters all around as if built on a rock. The pleasantest part of the journey now commenced in earnest, and everybody "wore their best looks" and holiday attire with a jaunty air, the strains of music from the band began to be fully appreciated, and the bewitching scenery afforded by the banks of the stream, heartily enjoyed. Everybody thought this was a beautiful world to live in after all. All thoughts of care or anxiety were dispelled as easily as the morning mists had disappeared, the sun shone brightly overhead, the waters glistened and danced under foot, the wind played around among the light hearted pleasure seekers, cooling the fiery rays of ardent Sol, and the thousand and one beauties of the famous Islands appeared, disappeared, reappeared, and filled the mind with admiration, intoxicating the senses with a slight foretaste of the heavenly shore. If there be a paradise on earth, it is located in and around among the Thousand Islands nestled upon the bosom of that "father of waters" the broad, clear, and swift flowing St. Lawrence. Island after island, came into view, some small, some large, some round, some oval, some irregular, but all clothed with a verdure of as bright a green as ever an Emerald Isle could boast. Houses too, of all kinds of architecture were discernable here and there, while cultivated fields were not wanting to lend an additional beauty to the ever varying and changeable scene. The very air seemed full of health and happiness and bright enjoyment. A cry from on deck attracts the notice of all for a minute to a particularly well wooded island with a new "sign" of proprietorship fixed on posts facing the channel. "Reciprocity Island" came from many lips at once, and for an instant there came over the thinking mind a slight shade caused by a momentary remembrance of Canada's mistaken fiscal policy. What nature has here put together for the delight and enjoyment of man, man has himself divorced by a barrier which though unseen is felt and chafed at. The towns of Gananoque, Brockville, and Prescott, are in turn passed by on the left shore, when the boat suddenly turns half round and enters the harbor of Ogdensburg. The band plays a merry tune or two, as they have been doing nearly all the way down, the boat is secured and the excursionists land and are welcomed by some of the A. O. U. W. The lodge room is invitingly open for such of the excursionists who seek a little rest. But this number is small, a stroll through the streets, with an occasional ice cream, or a smoke, being the main diversion. The city is dull but clean. The streets are lined by stately trees, speaking of a long time ago when Ogdensburg was first laid out. The sidewalks are a pattern for Napanee councillors to follow, that is if they will ever learn to be anything but good Tories. The citizens were kind to the visitors and the visitors left a goodly number of ten cents behind them, the restaurants and the ice cream parlors securing the larger share of patronage. Business seemed dull in the city and the McKinley Bill was blamed as the cause, no doubt truthfully enough. The "humbug" of protection may be here seen

Ducks and Partridges

On Tuesday, 1st September, duck and partridge shooting commenced. Whether they are plentiful or scarce we have not heard, and consequently infer that there is a fair "crop" of both; as, if they greatly above or below the average, our local sportsmen would either be rejoicing or grieving.

Masonic.

A Masonic Divine Service under the auspices of Union Lodge will be held in the Eastern Methodist church on Sunday morning next, at 10.45 a.m., at which R. W. Bro. Rev. R. J. Craig, P.G.C., will officiate. The main body of the church will be reserved for the Craft, who will meet at their Lodge Room at 10 a.m. sharp. A large number of Masons from Picton, Deseronto, Belleville and other parts are expected to participate.

From our Cyclic.

Lost, on Centre street, between Thomas and Bridge streets, a water works hydrant. It may be found in a bunch of weeds, not far from Bridge street. Those who give information as to its whereabouts will be thanked by the town council. It may be required in case of fire:

Any persons having a stray piece of board in their yard which they do not want to use will please notify the Street Committee, so that they may use it to repair the side walks. No matter how many knots in them, or how thick they are when laid the better.

Those who have any soap grease to try out, will find a good place down by the river side. There is no reason why one man should monopolize the business. The smell of it is very enjoyable, especially during meal hours.

Died of Heart Disease.

The announcement of the death of Mr. Chas. Whippin, in last week's issue, was somewhat short on account of lack of information. Mr. Whippin was taken with a faint spell the Sunday previous to his death, but recovered, and on Thursday he had another attack which proved fatal, and on Friday, Aug. 21st, about 4 o'clock he expired at his home residence. Up till the very last he maintained his mind, and talked in his usual fluent style to friends and relatives. 49 years he had been a resident in this county, and during that time had gained many friends, and was widely known throughout the county, and in Napanee. A short time ago he sold his farm, and has been living retired ever since in Bath. In all his dealings he had gained for himself a reputation as being an honest, straightforward and God fearing man, and his many friends deeply deplore his loss. Mr. Whippin had lately been on a visit to his two sons, Edgar and George who reside in the 3rd concession, near Mowen.

Stabbing Affray at Tweed.

Last Friday night Cradley, a workman on a ballast train on the Bay of Quinte railway, went to Tweed and sought L. R. Huysk, a hotel keeper, to fill a bottle with whiskey for him. The hotelman refused and words led to serious results, Bradley stabbing Huysk four or five times. The injuries are not necessarily fatal unless blood poisoning sets in. Mr. Huysk is a stout man and doctors fear some complications may result. Bradley was arrested and committed to Belleville jail for trial by Messrs. P. K. Newton and Thomas McCann, justices of the peace.

To Cure Mosquito Bites.

A German chemist, after a somewhat learned dissertation on the various kinds of mosquitoes and their respective characteristics and virulence, condescends to give a useful piece of practical information. He says that of the various remedies recommended for mosquito bites, none are better than ordinary soap. He is an ardent materialist, and on his frequent excursions in the country he invariably carries a small piece of soap, of which in case of a bite, he makes a lather all over the affected part and allows it to dry on. He almost invariably finds that the relief is instantaneous, and all the pain soon ceases. Should it continue, however, as sometimes happens, it is only necessary to repeat the application.

Not Gas, But Salt

Bellevillians are beginning to find out what their town is built on. A stream seven inches in diameter of clear salt water is at present flowing at the rate of 600 barrels a day from the well which is being sunk there in the search for natural gas. Those in charge of the drill state that the flow is the largest, with one exception, they have ever seen in Canada, and consider that the prospects for a salt well are favorable. Some local parties, not experts have boiled a portion of the liquid and otherwise experimented, and find that about 70 per cent of the residuum is salt, the nature and composition of the other 30 per cent, being unknown to them. The depth reached was 230 feet. The directors have decided that about all the gas to be found in the city is above the surface and have selected a point at Massassaug Park, about two miles south of the first well, at which they will again bore.
